Health Officer Issues Warning

Chickenpox And Mumps Now
Prevalent But Of Mild Nature—Parents Should Take
All Precautions.

Chicken-pox and mumps are now with us. It is difficult to state the number of cases since the reporting of these diseases is poor. Many cases are so mild that the family physician is not called and no notification is sent to the Health Unit.
By Provincial law, no placarding of these diseases is done.

Chickenpox is quite mild. The disease may be passed from person to person until all the scabs and scales have disappeared. Thus, cases of the disease should be isolated until the skin is clear.

50 Inspectors To Check All Fruit

T. L. Kennedy, Ontario Minister of Agriculture, has announced the appointment of 50 inspectors to check peaches, tomatoes and potatoes sold to Ontario consumers.

Mr. Kennedy said the action follows complaints last year of consumers paying high prices for low quality produce.

The peach crop is the biggest in the history of the Province, the Minister said.
The pear crop will be a complete failure, but apples will show 85 to 90 per cent of a normal crop.

St. Catharines' Position Is An Enviably One—Her Indebted- ness Is $20 Per Capita As Against Toronto With $95 And Windsor $209 — Will Have Big Growth.

(St. Catharines Standard)

A brief resume of this city's accomplishments added to some predictions about its future prospects were grouped under the heading of "St. Catharines Advances" and delivered in an address to the St.
Catharines Rotary Club last Thursday by Alderman Arthur I. Wallis.
Mr. Wallis is Chairman of the Civic Development Committee of the city council and assistant purchasing agent at McKinnon Industries
Ltd.

St. Catharines has 45 miles of paved roads, 75 miles of sidewalks and recently erected a new $63,000 incinerator. Its ice arena is valued at $125,000, and its modern city hall could not be replaced for less than $250,000. Mr. Wallis said. Add $400,000 for its two bridges and you have just a few of the milestones in the city's history. Mr.
Wallis said he had recently totalled city assets of this type and found they amount to better than $10,- 000,000.

More variable than these fixed assets is the city's debt per capita.
St. Catharines position is enviable.
Her indebtedness is $20. per capita Windsor. Linked with this is the

As recorded in last week's Inde-

Andy and his full crew of Canadian

On our way home we stopped at a little wayside booth outside Guelph

We admitted the corn quite proudly that we all knew Andy. Why not?

FACTS & FANCIES

Frank Fairborn, Jr.

POST OFFICE ETIQUETTE

When you call at the Post Office for your mail and the clerk hands it out, ask him if that is all. If you ask him for mail he says there is none, tell him there ought to be, and then go home and send the rest of the family around at different times during the day.

Don't bring your mail to the Post Office until the mail closes, then sail into the clerk for not opening the mail bag and putting your letter in.

When you want a stamp on your letter, tell the clerk to put it on; if he doesn't lick it—lick him. In case you put it on yourself, soak it in your mouth long enough to remove the mucilage—it will stick then until dry.

Be sure and ask the clerk to credit you with a stamp—if he has any accommodation about him he will do it.

If you have a box, stand and drum on it until the clerk hands you your mail—it will make him feel good, especially if he is waiting on someone else.

AW, RATS

During the past six months several towns and cities in Ontario, including "Hogtown" Toronto, have been complaining about the great hordes of rats that were infesting their various municipalities. The big question being how to eradicate the rodents.

Andrew Swayze, the Robinson street north satirist, provides a solution that might work. It is at least worth trying, if a sufficient number of cats of the right calibre were procurable.

Andy says that when he was a boy at home on the farm in Caistor, the family had a big black cat. This cat was run over by a lumber wagon one day and as a result of the accident lost one front leg. Father Swayze, after the wound healed up, made a wooden leg and fastened it to the stump and the cat became known as Swayze's wooden legged cat.

This cat suddenly became famed as a catcher of rats and mice. Every morning when the menfolk went to the barn there would always be a pile of 50 or 60 rats and mice to show for its night's work. The big catches mystified the family so they decided to keep watch.

Andy was selected to do guard duty, so he secreted himself in an old shed and watched the cat. Mr. Cat crouched behind a big post that supported this shed and cocked his eye at a knot-hole in the post. The rat hole was directly opposite and close up to the post.

Every time a rat poked his head out of the hole the cat reached around with his wooden leg and hit the rat on the head, killing him.

The cat had looked around the post and through the knot hole so much that he became cross-eyed and the mice when they came upon the scene, having never seen a cross-eyed cat before, died of fright. That accounted for the big catches of rats and mice.

FIFTY INSPECTORS

Hon. T. L. Kennedy, Ontario Minister of Agriculture, has announced the appointment of 50 inspectors to ensure, if that is at all possible, the marketing of good quality peaches, tomatoes and potatoes out of this district this year.

It is a move that has been long desired and should redound to the advantage of the honest growers, good packers and careful shippers.

Last year, undoubtedly Niagara Peninsula peaches got a very black eye from the poor quality which was marketed in the North, at Ottawa, Toronto and all throughout Ontario.

It didn't help any when Mr. Cruickshank, a Liberal M.P. from British Columbia, flanked Grade A species of peaches before the House of Commons and compare them with miserable fruit from this district.

At that, he probably rendered a service to the fruit-growing industry of this district, as he caused an awakening, the first real result of which is the enlarged inspectors to function this season.

Incidentally, the farming Minister reports a bumper crop of peaches, and there is a good assurance of better than average prices in the general market and at the canneries.

Pears are a failure but it is seldom in history that fruit production is 100 per cent., even in the Niagara District.

The hot sun and plenty of moisture have provided plenty of insurance for a profitable yield of grapes, with the usual set price.

RETURN OF "THE BOWLER"

According to the latest information, the bowler or derby hat is once more becoming fashionable wear in Britain.

It is not altogether surprising, because the bowler has always been regarded by the English with affection; and, as a symbol of civilian life, it has achieved a status far above the "tribby" or the cap.

Although it went into retirement during the war, it was not forgotten, and its influence, one fancies, was asserted strongly in the shape of the tin hat, or "battle bowler."

Its charm is not easy to analyze. Its dignity demands delicate handling—it will not be discarded with careless abandon, and is hurt beyond all remedy if it be sat on.

Should an ill wind remove it from the head, it is prone to live up to its name, and to bowl away at a speed that will defeat the most athletic of owners. Allow it, in the performance of its duty, to deviate in the smallest degree from the upright, and it becomes at once the most undignified of all hats.

In comfort, it is not the equal of its softer brethren—but, then, it is a British tradition, and perhaps its appeal is more to the heart than to the head.

Letters to the Editor

NEVER LET THE OLD FLAG FALL

Editor, The Independent:

There seems to be a lot of objection emanating chiefly from the Province of Quebec concerning the retaining of the dear old Union Jack in the official flag of the Dominion of Canada. In fact the objections are so strong, that it would seem to appear the only reason the Quebecers were anxious to raise the flag question at all was to obtain an opportunity to try to remove the Union Jack from our flag. Being one who has always been very tolerant of other people's opinions, and one who has always loved to study the French language, I feel that I dare speak without prejudice. Nevertheless, I hope that we will be able to keep the Union Jack flying in our flag.

It does not represent tyranny or oppression, nor as the Quebecers would like to believe does it say "The French Canadians are a conquered race!" The French Canadians are probably the most unconquered race anywhere in the world, ourselves included. They are entitled by the Constitution to as much say in the affairs of this Canada of theirs and ours, as we are. Quite often they have more say than we do, for 'keeping in well with Quebec' has always been a prime concern of any Government that wants to retain power.

It is a pity, though, that we cannot get ourselves a distinctive flag with a Jack in it, without all this controversy from Quebec. The present flag is not a suitable one for two reasons. First, it is too like the British Red Ensign of the Merchant Marine; and second, a coat-of-arms in the fly is not just what one would expect in a flag. Even the flag chosen by the Committee with its large Maple Leaf leaves much to be desired. When flying, half the time the Maple Leaf will be covered up (and particularly when the flag is in repose on a mast), and then it still looks like the British Red Ensign. A Canadian Merchant Seaman summarised the situation by saying that when his ship arrived at a foreign port, everyone thought it was a ship from the United Kingdom, and that he and his fellows were Limeys. Not that there is any harm in that, but it would be well to have them know we are Canadians, and that our ships are Canadian.

The French Canadians say the Union Jack represents domination by a foreign power. We admit it is also the flag of Great Britain, but it is also the flag of the British Commonwealth in which Canada is the senior Dominion.

The French Canadians are also wrong in objecting to the appellation "Dominion of Canada". They say it means domination by an outsider. It does not. They should read the 72nd Psalm, and see how the quotation "Dominion from sea to sea" comes in. The writer hopes that the powers-that-be will choose a flag with a Union Jack of the usual size and proportions in the corner, and with a field that will show up anywhere—a field that is not all blue, or all white—a field that is party-coloured—one that is studded with several dozen maple-leaves, or fleurs de lis, or cross-crosslets, or what have you—a checkerboard, if you like—but one that you can see a mile away, and say "That is Canada!" "We'll never let the old flag fall!"

SAFETY THEATRE ON RAILS: Designed to give more than 20,000 men of the Canadian Pacific Railway on eastern lines "visual" education in general train, interlocking rules and safe practices, a theatre on rails has begun its tour of lines from the Head of the Great Lakes to the Atlantic seaboard. When schools re-open children at divisional points will be invited to visit the car, in which have been incorporated all the features of a modern theatre, and see films which will teach them to avoid trespassing on railways and to prevent crossing accidents.

Here, J. C. McCuaig, general safety agent for eastern lines, is lecturing to a class of railroaders on the operation of block signals with aid of light panels which give an exact replica of the signals' operation on the line. The rule in question is shown on the screen. Inset, N. R. Crump, general manager for eastern lines, who conceived the idea such a car, is speaking over the car's public address system in describing the operation of the "panels" to C.P.R. officials when the car was on display in Montreal when it was turned out at Angus Shops after conversion from a World War hospital car.

'WAY BACK WHEN

Frank Fairborn, Jr.

This week we give you the second chapter of the history of Grimsby Park. Remember this story was written in 1901.

As the country became more thickly settled and the people more comfortable in circumstances, churches and churches increased and the camp meeting seems to have become more and more a sort of yearly Feast of Tabernacles where the people loved to gather for social and religious intercourse. Forty or fifty years ago in the balmy days many wonderful scenes were witnessed on many of these occasions. Saints and sinners, it is said, were alike overpowered by the mysterious spiritual influences which like a whirlwind swept over the immense congregation and prostrated the people like fields of grain borne down by mighty winds. The Camp Meeting at Grimsby came into existence in 1859. At the Conference that year the Hamilton District was divided and the Niagara District formed, with the Rev. Samuel Rose who was in charge of the Thorold Circuit, as chairman of the newly formed District. Early in the Conference year a committee was appointed to select a ground and make the needful preparation for a camp meeting for the new district. This committee was composed of Revs. Samuel Rose, Michael Fawcett, John Wakefield and the following laymen: John B. Bowslaugh, David Hoasser and Jacob Beamer. This committee met at the house of Mr. Bowslaugh and after some discussion selected the ground where Grimsby Park now is. In the selection many things needed to be considered, such as a suitable ground, good water, available pasturage for horses, and a sympathetic neighborhood and plenty of pine and wood for lights. All these things seemed to unite in the spot chosen on the southern shores of beautiful Lake Ontario. The ground required much work to make it ready for the camp meeting. As soon as the place was selected, before a blow was struck, the committee with bared heads, knelt before God beneath the leafy shade and invoked His blessing. Then the Rev. Mr. Wakefield seized an axe and struck the first blow towards the clearing of the grounds, after which all hands set to work to prepare as quickly as possible for a successful meeting which was to begin on the last Thursday in August, 1859. Much arduous work was done, but ministers and laymen alike rendered willing service, and when the day of assembly had arrived, all was ready.

The first sermon was preached by the Rev. John Wakefield, and his text was from 1 Kings, 18-41 "There is a sound of abundance of rain." The meeting lasted about a week and results were reported as very satisfactory.

From this time Grimsby camp meeting became an annual gathering and with the single exception of the year 1862, when the district camp meeting was held at Drummondville, near Niagara Falls, was held at Grimsby and continued. Among the camp meeting services were continued. Among the men who were prominent in the work in those days may be mentioned Revs. Samuel Rose, Isaac B. Hoar, Michael Fawcett, John Shaw, John Wakefield, J. H. Stair, John Potts, Alexander Sutherland, A. Langford, I. E. Betts, and in later years John A. Williams, George R. Sanderson, W. S. Griffin and others. Among the laymen there were John B. Bowslaugh, Noah Phelps, Ira Calder, David Hoasser, Jacob Beamer, John P. Bridgman, Abishai Morse, James Lewis and James Miller.

Dr. Rose and Mr. Fawcett both were men of strong characters as well as of deep piety. Mr. Fawcett was a very devoted temperance worker and had all the courage of his convictions. Early in the history of the Park, and for a good many years, great difficulty was experienced by the camp meeting authorities in keeping strong drink off the ground and its environs. Open defiance was met with at first and later all sorts of tricks were resorted to in order to cater to the appetites of those persons addicted to drink who might happen to be in the audience. On one occasion when a most flagrant instance of this occurred and a man planted a little drinking booth at the very gates, it was raided and razed to the ground by the indignant campers, headed and assisted by no less a personage than the reverend gentleman himself.

The camp meeting was always held the last week in August, beginning on Thursday and lasting over one Sunday. This, of course, was the most important day and the crowds were immense. The people brought baskets of provisions and picnicked in the woods or on the shore, and during the hours of service they often overflowed the seating capacity and stood in hundreds reaching sometimes to the very doors of the encircling tents. A pleasant sight it was to see the people as they came upon the grounds to be ready for this great Sunday. How glad the women were to see each other. Many of them never met save at these meetings. Gradually the little dwellings would fill and faces appear at the doors. The simple arrangements inside were soon completed and greetings and handshakings were in order.

It must be remembered, however, that the people came together for worship. There were three regular services of sermons with after-meetings which were long and exciting, and as some of the brethren never seemed to grow weary, little bands might be found at almost any hour in different tents met to continue the spiritual exercises, and sometimes only dispersed when meal time came and the physical as well as the spiritual nature called for attention. Seriousness marked the demeanor of most of the seated congregation. When the minister arose to begin the services an expectant hush fell upon the vast assembly. Some of the ministers had wonderful voices, which penetrated the forest spaces beyond like bugle notes, and the grand old tunes were sung with a vigor and unison most appropriate to the occasion.

Those early meetings were characterized by great simplicity, earnestness and spirituality. The people came together for the sole purpose of engaging in religious exercises for the benefit of themselves and others. For this purpose business was suspended, household routine disturbed and the entire energies of the participants given to the work of advancing the kingdom of Jesus Christ. They expected to be blessed and strengthened and they were not disappointed. If they sometimes gave expression to their spiritual ecstasies in shouts or tears, or other demonstrations, what mattered it when they came forth from the meetings with faces shining with the light which comes alone from altitudes beyond the reach of the soul's everyday experience. What a heartiness there was in the greetings they gave each other in those days, such a grip in their handshakes, and candor in their eyes. Sons and daughters of the soil many of them were, with hard work for their daily portion, but their honesty, their simplicity, their kindness of heart, were beautiful.

SPORTOLOGY

(By Bones Livingston, Sportologist)

IN DEFENSE OF CASEY

The boys were talking baseball and some youngsters overloud told the tale of Mighty Casey striking out before the crowd. When a stranger broke his silence, and we gasped to hear him say: "They'd be walking Mighty Casey with the ball they use to-day."

"If old Casey still were playing and they threw this lively ball, The outfield would be standing with their backs against the wall, And the boys upon the field—each as nervous as a cat— Would be thinking home and mother every time he came to bat."

"The ball that Casey swung at needed more than just a swat. In those days only Casey ever drove it from the lot; In those days every double from the bleachers brought a cheer. And a good three hundred hitter earned two thousand bucks a year."

"You may sneer at Mighty Casey, but if he were still about And they tossed this whizbang at him they would never get him out. And if Casey still were living in this happy, favored land He'd be playing for the Red Sox and be drawing fifty grand."

IS HE GOING TO LEAVE?—As the front page of this paper tells you this week, BIG RUSHTON has sold his property and restaurant business. At the present time he has not decided just what he will do in the future, whether he will remain in Grimsby or go hibernate some place else. If the BIG BOY leaves town then a sports impresario will have to be turned up from somewhere. RUSH has spent a lot of time, money and energy on sport in this town in the past 10 years and if he leaves our midst he will certainly be missed in sporting ranks.

PLAYOFFS ARE ARRANGED—TOM COLLINS, chief nabob of the FRUIT BELT SOFTBALL LEAGUE has arranged the playoffs for the league. When the regular schedule is finished then the teams standing first and second in the percentages will be brought together for a seven game series; the third and fourth teams will play a series of two out of three, home and home games; the fifth and sixth teams will play two out of three games; a winner must be declared in the second and third series the first week of play. The winners of these two series will then play a two out of three game series, the winner of which will meet the winner of the first series for the championship. The silver cup, emblematic of the FRUIT BELT championship, presumed to have been lost has turned up. BIG RUSHTON had it in moth balls and turned it over to the executive on Saturday last.

JUST A LOT OF WARM BREEZES—Do you know what the recruiting sergeant of the R.C.A.F. told OLD TOM WARNER the other day, when he got the urge to go back into the service? He said, Tommy, me boy, you were born 20 years to soon. . . . Latest reports from the North Country are to the effect that LITTLE WHIZZER has yet to catch his first fish. . . . This week MILLER, DUFFIELD and CLANCY of the PEACH KINGS hockey tribe report in Toronto for tryouts for overseas service next winter with teams in the Scottish league. Here's hopin' the kids make the grade. . . . Playoff dates in the FRUIT BELT SOFTBALL league have been announced. . . . What has become of RUSH's juvenile hardball team? . . . FRUIT BELT BANTAM league is providing a smart brand of ball for youngsters. Better go see them play. . . . The heat of the past month makes one long for a January visit to George Marr's frozen water palace. . . . BEAMSVILLE LAWN BOWLERS are certainly making a name for themselves this season as well as collecting a great variety of prizes of all kinds and descriptions. Wherever they go, singles, doubles or rinks they bring home the major portion of the loot.

Obituary

MRS. JEAN MILLIKEN

Mrs. Milliken, (formerly Jean Shantz, of Hamilton) wife of the Reverend Dr. F. S. Milliken, of Ottawa, died on Saturday, July 27. Service was held in St. John's United Church, Ottawa, on Monday evening, with interment at Belleville on Tuesday.

Besides her husband, she leaves three children, Katherine, Keith and John, all of Ottawa.

Dr. Milliken was pastor of St. John's Presbyterian Church, Grimsby, at the time of Union, and then of Trinity United Church. He and Mrs. Milliken lived in Grimsby about two and one half years before going to St. John's United Church, where the congregation recently celebrated Dr. Milliken's twenty years pastorate.

FLORA M. MARSH

A lifetime resident of Grimsby district, Miss Flora M. Marsh, daughter of the late Daniel and Margaret Marsh, passed away at her home, Thursday, July 25th, following a lingering illness.

She was a member of Trinity United Church.

Surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Ella Corman, of Hamilton; Miss Minnie Marsh and Mrs. Claude Boden, both of Grimsby, and a brother, Fred M. Marsh, of Grimsby.

The funeral service was held from her late residence on Saturday afternoon, July 27th, and was conducted by Rev. George McLean. The interment was in the family plot at the Fifty Cemetery.

The casket bearers were her nephews, Harold Corman, Earl Marsh, Herbert Corman, Dayton Marsh, Glenn Pettit and Jack Pettit.

"Dear Friends of Canada" writes a grateful recipient of bedding, Mrs. M. J. Bond, 9 Powis Square, Sunderland, Durham, England. "Today I received a lovely gift, a blanket and a quilt from the Canadian Red Cross Society. Owing to the ill health of my husband I am in receipt of a P.A. He was a fire watcher during the war, and a voluntary warden. My son is at present serving with the Forces in Greece and my daughter is with the W.A.A.F. When I tell them of your great kindness they will appreciate it as my husband and I do."

"Dear Members of Ontario Division" writes Agnes B. Ballantyne, matron of St. Leonard's Nursery, Edinburgh, Scotland. "Please accept our warmest thanks for your latest generous gift, that of tomato juice for the Nursery School children. The children loved it. It is a great pleasure to see their happy faces when the juice is served and to know how much good it is doing them."

"You, our Canadian friends, have been so constant in your friendship and so active in your help that we can never forget what we owe you. There was always the strongest bond between our countries and it is stronger now because of your kindness in these trying and dietetically dull times."

Because it was impossible to obtain sugar for jam last year, funds raised in Ontario Red Cross Branches for this purpose, were used to purchase infants' food and concentrated orange juice for British children. During the war years the Red Cross Women's Institute for British project furnished 1,285,024 pounds of jam and honey for Canadian servicemen in hospitals and children in British nurseries.

Picks A Ton Of Cherries A Day

HOOD RIVER, Ore., July 26—The pickin'est migrant worker in the west — maybe in the world — drew his pay cheque today and headed for California and another harvest.

Henry Wooten, one-time Kentuckian, heard the other day that nobody ever picked a ton of cherries in a day. So he picked a ton. It took him 12 hours to strip 2-168 pounds of the trees in the Webster Orchards. It gave him the record.

Last year Wooten averaged 1,000 pounds of cherries a day for 13 consecutive days, Webster said.

Kent Peach Crop Is Excellent One

Prospects for the peach harvest in the Kent area are "excellent," according to V. G. McGuigan, chairman of the County Fruit Producers Association. While he did not describe the crop as a bumper one, he indicated that it would be at least equal to last year's.

Only a 50 per cent apple crop is anticipated, and pears will be in "extremely" short supply, he said. Raspberries are of excellent quality, but stocks are small and prices up to 60 cents a quart are being asked.

The plum crop is a good one and apricots, which are making their first appearance on the city market, are in fair supply.

Cpl. Robbie Gets Welland Command

A veteran member of the Ontario provincial police, Isaac R. Robbie, well known in the Fruit Belt, has been promoted to the rank of corporal and placed in charge of the Welland detachment of the provincial force, Inspector C. F. Air-Niagara Falls, has announced.

Cpl. Robbie will take over new duties at Welland, on August 1. He succeeds Cpl. Harry Peel who has been placed in charge of Barrie detachment.

A member of the provincial force since 1928, Cpl. Robbie has been at Kincardine since his discharge from the Canadian army where he held the rank of captain and was attached to the military police.

Cpl. Robbie has been attached to provincial police posts in Niagara Falls, St. Catharines and Grimsby. Early in the war he held the rank of sergeant and supervised the veterans' guard at the Decew Falls plant of the Ontario Hydro Electric Power Commission.

At a later date, Cpl. Robbie and Mrs. Robbie and their family will establish residence in Welland.

Anything can happen nowadays, says a writer. What is more, it usually does.

EVERYBODY KNOWS said to the wife, it is near time for Andy, can we get him up here. We tuned in, we got him away in Creemore. I said to the wife, "Bones" Livingston has something to do with this because his people come from Creemore."

As a matter of fact "Bones" had nothing to do with it. Bert Smith, the Editor of The Creemore Star, was the man who took Andy to Creemore, and C.B.C. officials were satisfied that he should go.

It is just a case of Andy being a broadcaster of truth and homely sayings to the people, of the people, and bringing back to them the districts that their families took root in. The Little Places, that made Canada BIG. The Little Places that will keep Canada BIG.

Andy is the Mayor of Little Places.

HEALTH OFFICER

Mumps in children is also, usually, a mild disease. However, in adults it may be very severe. An adult with mumps should stay in bed until all swelling has disappeared. Cases of this disease should be kept in isolation a minimum of 16 days. If the swelling has not disappeared at that time isolation should be continued until the swelling has gone.

It would be a distinct help if all these cases were notified to the Health Unit. By knowing the number of cases each week the Unit would be in a much better position to anticipate the possible onset of an epidemic. Under the provisions of the Public Health Act, it is the responsibility of the householder to make this notification if a physician is not called.

Vacation Period Safeguards

There Are A Lot Of Protective Measures You Should Take To Keep Home Safe While Away.

Safeguarding the home while people are away on their summer vacation is something that should be considered before any holidays are taken. Every minute brings its quota of house burglaries — crimes committed by prowlers whom the home owners invariably "tip-off" to the fact that the premises are temporarily unoccupied. Drawn window shades in every room, notices on doors or windows, accumulation of mail on the door step all are invitations to unlawful intruders.

A veteran police official has tabulated a dozen specific suggestions for protecting the vacation-vacant home. These pointers could well repay perusal:

- 1—Before leaving notify the police station, specifying the period during which your home will be vacant.
 - 2—Remove and appropriately store all money, bonds, jewelry and other articles of value.
 - 3—Stop delivery of newspapers and milk.
 - 4—Arrange for the removal from doorstep of all mail and advertising circulars.
 - 5—Make certain all doors and windows are locked securely.
 - 6—Leave the key to your home with a responsible neighbor, so that it can be entered in case of an emergency.
 - 7—If your home will be vacant at any time of night, leave at least one light burning.
 - 8—Don't pull down the window blinds or leave notes stating when you will return.
 - 9—Be sure no door keys are in the hands of former tenants, and, if in doubt, change the locks.
 - 10—Be sure the persons you hire to work for you are reliable.
 - 11—Always close garage doors; open ones reveal your absence.
 - 12—Keep a record of the serial numbers of your watches, radio, vacuum cleaner and other appliances, so you can furnish these numbers to the police if your property is lost or stolen.
- The peace of mind engendered by the memory of these precautions having been taken will add to your enjoyment of a care-free holiday.

Bottle Shortage

Shortage of new supplies of glass, breakage and the accumulation of stocks of empty bottles in the hands of consumers have created a critical situation in the distribution of bottled beverages. Failure on the part of consumers to return "empties" for re-use has literally created a "bottle-neck" in the distribution process.

A special appeal is currently being made to purchasers of lighter beverages to clear the "empties" from summer cottages and cellars and get them back to the production line. Frozen assets in the form of empty bottles in consumers' hands only gather dust—but when they are returned to the manufacturer they enable a broader distribution of the product. Cartons should also be returned in as good condition as possible as the quantity which can be obtained is restricted.

What the world needs is a monetary set-up that can't be up-set.

RESUSCITATOR

chine of the firemen is equally as good a machine as the permanent one installed at the hospital. That it will work just as successfully in a hayfield or on a bathing beach as it will in the hospital. In her estimation, and that estimate must be given a lot of consideration, the firemen's machine can not be lettered anywhere in the province. As Matron of West Lincoln hospital she is more than pleased that when the permanent machine at the hospital refused to function she was able to call upon the Grimsby firemen and secure a machine to take care of any emergency that might arise and at the same time it would be available for outside use.

When experts speak who are you and I, the common public, to argue, yet it was the money of the public that purchased this most valuable machine. If it is never used, the fact remains that it is available when it is needed. The firemen kept their promise to the public.

Next Thursday and Friday night the Grimsby Fire Department is again appealing to the public for funds through their carnival and you can rest assured that whatever profits they make will be put to a good purpose.

As usual the first night will be a night of plenty of entertainment. On the second night will be the big street dance with Russ Creighton and His Canadian Mountaineers providing the lifting music for all to trip the light fantastic toe. Depot street from Adelaide to John St. will be blocked off and everybody is invited to come and have a whale of a time.

The programme for Thursday night is made up as follows:

Charles Jackson, well known Hamilton comedian, accompanied by the following high class talent: Bashful Joe, Comedian, the most bashful fellow in the world. Has appeared on C.B.C. Broadcasts with Old Timers from P. E. Island. Also appeared with Major Bowes Vaudeville Unit. Doreen Taylor, Acrobatic Personalities, from Carry-on Army show; Lou Drennan, human canary. Really tops in whistling, very smart appearance, a valuable member of Carry-On Army show; Nels Dickson, musical comedy nit wit; Chick Hayes, the Rube from Bingville, comedy dancer; Chas. Jackson, Master of Ceremonies; Inis Noble, Pianist.

There will be games and other novelty features for young and old. Come and have a good time and help the fire laddies to do good with their funds in the months to come.

LINCOLN COUNTY TOWN

very low power rate resulting from the proximity of power and the character and ability of the Public Utilities Commission. The efficiency of the St. Catharines Water Commission has been a large factor in keeping costs to a third of what they are in Montreal.

St. Catharines first known as the Village of Twelve when it was founded in 1784. The name was later changed to Shipman's Corners then to St. Catharines in 1816. It was a town in 1849 and a city in 1876.

The success of the successive-Welland Ship Canals is interwoven with the growth of the city. They are linked together all through the 19th Century. As each new canal was built the population increased and then faded but each time bringing a measure of prosperity.

St. Catharines has a diversified industry. Its workers are employed 40% in the automotive industry, 18% in paper manufacturing, 14% in hardware and metals, 9% in electrical and 9% in textiles. The diversification has been an even prosperity picture that has served us well in the past and will serve us well in the future, the speaker said. He quoted figures that emphasize this prosperity. Earnings of workers in St. Catharines, he declared, are 30% above the national average.

The city has steadily grown in population. Some years ago a population in 1946 of 32,000 was predicted. This has been exceeded by 3,000. The same authority predicts a population in 1960 of between 45 and 50,000.

Mr. Wallis sounded a caution. The city has been warned by the Provincial Government that it must clean up the Old Welland Canal which has been used for the disposal of sewage. It will cost an estimated $1,000,000 for a sewage disposal plant and an additional $800,000 for sewer outlets. This has placed a cloud on the city's economic horizon but it must be faced in the not too distant future.

Housing Enterprises are erecting a large number of low cost houses in what is known as Macdonald Gardens. Mr. Wallis said the city will probably spread to the south and this area will eventually contain thousands of people. The golf club will probably be purchased some day, he thought, and sold as building lots.

Because boundary extensions are a controversial subject Mr. Wallis said he did not wish to go into it extensively but he declared boundary extension will come, St. Catharines will grow.

LET IN LIGHT

In a health tip to office and workroom staffs, the Department of National Health and Welfare, Ottawa, advises on thorough airing of working premises. "Open the windows wide," they say. "If you let in sunlight you help kill off germs of colds or flu which may be lurking about. This is particularly important in places where crowds have caused accumulation of used-up air mingled with dust, and possibly with tobacco smoke." The Department suggests that offices and other quarters be thoroughly aired when not in use.

FIRE CONSUMES WEALTH

Of all peacetime Canadian manufacturing industries, pulp and paper stands first in employment, total wages paid, export values, net value of production, and in capital invested. This industry depends on the forests. Care in the woods will help prevent forest fires.

ERIC, a Junior, and when on the 15th he conceived the idea of becoming a priest and religious in the Order of St. Basil the Great. On Oct. 11, 1926, he arrived with his father in Mundare, Alberta, where the Basilian Fathers have their Novitiate or initial training centre for the priesthood. Within a year his youngest brother, John, followed Michael's footsteps, and also entered the Novitiate at Mundare. John, now known as Father Isadore J. Kohut, O.S.B.M., is an active missionary priest in New York State.

At Mundare, Father Kohut completed his Novitiate training, studied Rhetoric, Philosophy for 2 years, and Theology for 2 years, when his superiors decided that because of his unusual talents and ability to study he should be sent to Rome for higher learning. On Sept. 13, 1934, young Brother Nicholas Michael, as he was then called, left Canada for the Eternal City accompanied by Father Lesluk, now of Grimsby, and the Very Rev. Dionysius Tkachuk, O.S.B.M., the late Superior General of the Basilian Order. It was Father Kohut's first ocean crossing, and one can imagine how his youthful heart thrilled over the prospects that life held out for him. His aim was to study to become a great missionary. Then he would return to Canada and devote his life to the many poor neglected Ukrainian people that were still to be found. It was a great ideal, and one that has lived with him ever since.

For him, every bit of his journey was eventful. They stopped over at Plymouth, England, Le Havre, Paris—and finally Rome. In Rome Father Kohut studied at the world renowned Gregorian University from 1934 to 1937 inclusively. On several occasions he witnessed public audiences given by the late Pope Pius XI. During these years he found time to visit many of the interesting Italian cities as Naples, Venezia. In Bari he visited St. Nicholas' church where the relics of Father Kohut's patron saint, St. Nicholas of Myra, are preserved. As a priest he celebrated Mass in the crypt over the tomb of St. Peter in the magnificent St. Peter's Basilica. Twice he had occasion in the summers of 1935 and 1936 to visit Western Ukraine where with Father Lesluk he visited the larger Basilian monasteries in the country.

On Oct. 13, 1935, Father Kohut was ordained to the priesthood by His Excellency Josephat Kocylowsky, O.S.B.M., Bishop of Peremeshyl, in Dobromil, Western Ukraine, the same Bishop Kocylowsky who was later imprisoned by the NKVD, but released when popular public opinion demanded it. Father Kohut's first Mass was celebrated on Oct. 20, 1935, in Dobromil, after which he visited the home of his parents and uncle in Czechoslovakia. In Vienna he had the happiness and privilege of saying Mass before the altar containing the relics of the great Ukrainian martyr, St. Josaphat. Then he returned to Rome.

On receiving his S.T.L. degree, 1937, after the successful completion of his studies, he left for Canada, then visited his home town, Nesquehoning, where he had his first Mass before his parents, brothers, and relatives.

Immediately in 1937 he was placed in Mundare as assistant parish priest and as professor of Theology. In 1938 he became Vicar of the large monastery in Mundare. In the summer of 1941 he was appointed Master of Novices in Mundare, Provincial Secretary, and Provincial Consultor for the Order of St. Basil the Great in Canada and the United States. In 1943 when the new Basilian monastery was being founded in Grimsby, the onerous task of organizing and directing was handed over to Father Kohut when he became Father Superior over the new home. On July 5, 1946, his latest advancement came when he was appointed to become General Consultor, and so to become an important cog in the government of the Order of St. Basil the Great with its Mother House at Rome.

That he has succeeded in his duties in Grimsby is self evident. In the last 11 years of priestly life he has devoted himself with untiring zeal, energy, and sacrifice to all his subjects. His charity and the love which he bore his neighbour won him a wealth of friends. His love of boys produced a Summer Camp which welcomes yearly scores of boys from neighbouring cities. No matter what the grievance or what private sorrow he may have carried in his own heart, Father Kohut with smiling face was always ready to help and console. His smile has become proverbial. To each and everyone of his Ukrainian parishioners, and English-speaking acquaintances he has always been a true Catholic priest, a sincere friend, and a Father. May God bless him on his journey, bring him great successes in his continuous battle for souls, and may He sometimes lead Father Nicholas back to

The following poem was composed by one of Father Kohut's little parishioners. Her name is Virginia Garbatt. She is 11 years old, in grade 6, and goes to Calder School, Grimsby, Ontario.

To Rev. Father Nicholas M. Kohut, O.S.B.M.

WE KNOW YOU MUST GO

You'll say god-bye,
You'll wave your hand,
You're leaving us for another land.
Oh, we shall hope and we shall pray
For your safe return
Some other day.

The weeks have gone by,
And now we all know.
We've heard the sad news
That you must go.
We hope you're happy
In the place called Rome.
But, Father, remember
Your Grimsby home.

Oh Father remember
The church on the hill,
The people who love you,
And who always will.
They'll always remember
The smile on your face.
They'll never forget you
When you leave this place.

Oh Father remember
That we were your sheep,
And you were our shepherd.
Over us watch you'd keep.
It's sad to see you go
To that other place.
Oh Father we'll miss you
And your kind smiling face.

Virginia Garbatt,
St. Mary's on-the-hill,
Grimsby.

A MESSAGE FOR THOSE WHO NEED TRAINED WORKERS

AN ARMY INSTRUMENT MECHANIC HAD TO BE GOOD!

Only one of 216 Army trades, the instrument mechanic, among other things, had to make optical, electrical or mechanical repairs to anti-aircraft fire control equipment or to any field instrument. He had to be able to use fine hand tools, watchmakers' lathes and check and calibrate instruments from a standard. He had to be able to follow blueprints, harden and temper metal parts and tools, know mathematics including trigonometry and have a knowledge of elementary electricity and optics.

Today

He brings specialized training to industry . . .

In common with thousands of other ex-servicemen and women the instrument mechanic has a real contribution to offer Canadian industry and business. World War II was a mechanized war. Canada's soldiers, sailors and airmen, represent many hundreds of industrial skills. You will find competent journeymen among those discharged. You will find many thousands of others who have basic skills which can be converted to civilian production with additional training.

Investigate the training-on-the-job provisions of Canada's re-establishment programme. Under this, the Dominion Government adds to the wages you pay ex-servicemen and ex-service-women while they are learning. You can secure complete details through the National Employment Service, the Department of Veterans Affairs, or Canadian Vocational Training.

Men and women for the services were carefully selected on enlistment. Service experience, training, discipline and the lessons of organization add greatly to their value. Whether tradesman or not, the veteran makes the ideal employee. Canada offers none better.

Use PARMONE FOR GREATER PROFITS

"THREE small bottles of PARMONE made me $150 on my Snow apples by holding them longer on the trees. There was a big increase in size and improvement in colour."

That's what one grower writes... one of the many who have learned how PARMONE, the C-I-L hormone spray, prevents or greatly reduces pre-harvest drop.

Fruit clings longer
 Apples (and pears) cling longer and more firmly to the trees. Fruit shows improved colour, quality and size. PARMONE does not delay normal ripening processes. Consequently fruit should be picked at the proper stage of maturity.

Economical
 Just four ounces of PARMONE makes 100 gallons of spray, and a single spraying is usually sufficient. Insure a bigger crop, larger profits, by using PARMONE at the first sign of early dropping.

Tin Can Supply Will Be Adequate

Steel Co. Strike Will Not Interfere With Supply For Canning Factories—Plenty To Handle Big Crop.

Fears expressed in some quarters of late that the supply of tin cans might be inadequate to handle what has been described as the largest peach crop in this area in many years, were discounted Tuesday by Gordon Mann, general manager of the American Can Company, who said that his firm could handle the situation despite the present Steel Company strike. "With our present supplies and with what we are receiving from other outlets, there is no reason to feel unduly concerned at the present time," Mr. Mann said. "The present crop is an excellent one and we can assure growers that we can take care of their needs." Mr. Mann explained that a number of other companies supplied his firm with the necessary materials. He added that thin steel sheets which come in black iron form, and which are usually sent to the Steel Company of Canada for "tinning", are now being held by the American Can Company until such time as Stelco can again process them. In the meantime, however, tin is being received from other firms which handle such work for the American Can and this supply, plus present stocks, it was said, would prove adequate for some time to come. The material, now being held by American Can for eventual processing at the Steel Company when the strike ends, can not be shipped to other outlets for they are taxed to the limit of their facilities, it was added.

Hey, Kids! Here Are The Injurs

Two hundred Indian braves of the Arapahoe and Shoshone tribes turned actors to appear in M-G-M's new story of the old West, "Bad Bascomb," which shows at the Roxy theatre on the first three days of next week with a special matinee at 2 p.m. on the holiday, with Wallace Beery and little Margaret O'Brien co-starred for the first time.

Negotiations for the employment of the Indians in the production were concluded at a tribal council held at the Wind River Indian reservation near Lander, Wyoming, Chief Six Feathers of the Arapahoes and Chief Holding-Two-Guns of the Shoshones were the first to sign up for the film roles. Upon completion of the picture, Beery and Miss O'Brien were made honorary Chief and Princess of the two tribes, Beery being christened Chief-Blue-Sky-Eagle and Miss O'Brien winning the title of Princess-White-Little-Flower. The stars were presented with elaborate feather headdresses and were invited to smoke the pipe of peace and friendship at the feast which followed the ceremonies.

Red Netting

We hear that the red net covering on baskets of peaches is going to be discarded.

This is a forward step. Of course the red net never fooled the women.

They know too much about dressing up a pale and sallow complexion to make the owner look like a "peach."

They just tear off the netting and examine the peaches.

But many a man has admired peaches under the deceiving netting—and discovered after he got them home that they were green and scrawny.

Fruit Prospects Are Very Bright

Government Report For Western Ontario Shows That Crop Will Be a Bumper One Of Nearly All Varieties

Despite a somewhat prolonged hot dry spell in most areas until rainfall on the night of July 19th, conditions during the past month have been favourable for good growth and development of tree fruits, for the harvesting of seasonal crops under good carrying conditions, and for excellent control of fungus and insect pests. Small fruits, however, and particularly raspberries, were seriously affected by lack of moisture and hot dry weather.

Cherries—An increase of approximately 13,000 bushels over last month's estimate is indicated in current prospects of 118,030 bushel total crop, made up of 35,275 bushels Sweet, and 82,755 bushels of Sour cherries. While the 1946 cherry crop shows nearly 200% increase over 1945, it is still under the 5-year average, 1940-44. Fruit has been clean, of good size and little or no evidence of splitting, and harvesting to date has been carried out under ideal conditions. Sweet cherries are now practically all harvested, and Montmorencies have passed peak movement.

Peaches—Total crop is now estimated at 1,237,100 bushels, or practically the same as reported in June. It is an increase of approximately 36% over 1945, and slightly more than 9.5% over the 1940-44 average. All conditions have been favourable for good growth and development, and there has been excellent control to date of fungus and insect pests. Fruit sizing is good, particularly where thinning has been well carried out.

Pears—Total pear crop estimate is now placed at 129,150 bushels, a slight increase over the earlier estimate. While this shows 186% increase over the light crop of 1945, it is still a 65% reduction from the 5-year average, 1940-44. The increase over last month's estimate is due to better prospects for Bartlett pears, although partly offset by slight reductions for Kieffer and other varieties. In all main producing areas, trees are in good condition, with existing fruit sizing well and generally free of insects and disease.

Plums—Present total estimated crop of 111,450 bushels is an increase of 314% over the exceptionally small yield last year. The decrease from the 5-year average, 1940-44, amounts to 28%. Japanese at 19,095 bushels, and European varieties at 88,665 bushels show a betterment over earlier estimates with Prunes about the same, namely 3,360 bushels.

Raspberries—As in the case of strawberries, present estimate of 1,715,315 quarts shows a material decrease from earlier estimate of 2,057,560 quarts, and similarly is due to hot dry weather at the critical period, seriously affecting the berries and shortening the normal harvesting season. It is feared the rainfall on July 19th was too late to improve the situation, except possibly in some later areas. The present estimate is 11% below 1945, and 21% below the 5-year average, 1940-44.

Strawberries—Due to hot dry weather following commencement of harvesting season, the earlier estimate of 10% increase over 1945 has been materially reduced, and is now placed at 4,361,960 quarts, or a 0.7% decrease from 1945 and 11% below the average yield of the preceding 5-year period. Fruit harvested was of fair to good size and of excellent quality. Notwithstanding the dry weather, new plantings are in fair condition, with runners now rooting. Control of leaf roller by spraying is being carried out by many growers, particularly in Norfolk county. In Northern Ontario and at Head of Lakes a fair crop has been harvested.

Grapes—Crop estimates remain practically the same as previously reported—31,340 tons, made up of 25,150 tons Blue, 3,840 tons White, and 2,350 tons Red. While comparable to the 1945 crop present estimate is 13% better than average for 5-year period, 1940-44. Yield prospects show a decrease from 1945 in Elgin-Oxford, but this is offset by increases reported in Norfolk, Middlesex and Brant Counties. Vineyards are in excellent condition, with general freedom from insect or disease damage.

FALL FAIR DATES NOW AVAILABLE

Lists of the fall fairs to be held all over the Province this year have now been compiled and printed by the Agricultural and Horticultural Societies Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, of which J. A. Carroll is superintendent. According to the lists, 248 fairs and exhibitions are being held this year, this being an increase of approximately 20 over last year's figure. Included in the list is the Royal Winter Fair, being held from November 12 to 20 and being revived after a suspension of five years owing to wartime conditions.
